Workers Compensation

Suffering an injury at work can have a profound impact on your life. Depending on the seriousness of your injury, you may never be able to return to work in the same capacity. Workers Compensation can cover you for a variety of injuries, both physical and psychological. You can lodge a claim for compensation to cover you for lost income, as well as payment of your medical and associated expenses. The Workers Compensation scheme includes the following incidents:

- Injuries at work, as a result of work or during work activities;
- Diseases caused by work;
- Diseases or pre-existing conditions made worse by work;
- Injuries suffered while travelling for work;
- Injuries suffered while receiving medical treatment for a separate work injury.

Shine Lawyers have legal experts that will be able to advise you on what is claimable in your specific situation and make the process as simple as possible.

Motor Vehicle (TAC) Claims

If you are injured in a car, truck, motorbike, bicycle, train, tram or any other type of motor vehicle accident, you may be entitled to compensation. Motor vehicle accident claims can be complex so it is important to seek expert legal advice as early as possible. The Transport Accident Commission (TAC) is the Victorian Government's compulsory third party insurer that provides compensation for Victorians who have sustained injuries in motor vehicle accidents. The TAC operates a 'no-fault' scheme, meaning you can bring a claim for your injuries regardless of who was at fault. Injuries sustained in motor vehicle accidents can require extensive rehabilitation and can affect every aspect of your life. At Shine Lawyers, we have TAC motor vehicle accident law experts who can assess your situation, advise you of your rights and help you get the compensation you need to get your life back on track.

Strict time limits apply to making a claim for compensation, and our lawyers will work efficiently and effectively to deliver practical solutions on time. By seeking legal advice as early as possible, you can rest assured that you won't miss out on any important deadlines.

Accidents can happen in any place at any time. When you suffer an injury from an accident in a public place, you may be entitled to make a public liability claim for compensation. For a claim to be successful, you must be able to show your injuries were caused by the negligence of another, and as a result, you were hurt and suffered loss. The team at Shine Lawyers can review the circumstances of the injury, explain your available options and help get you the compensation you need to get back on your feet after a slip, trip or fall.
